

Dear Customers,

We would like to inform you about the tipping rules to ensure transparency, and fairness for both our staff and valued guests.

1. Tipping is at your discretion: while tips are always appreciated, they are entirely voluntary and should reflect the level of service received.

2. Service charge for larger groups: A discretionary service charge of (10%) will be automatically added to the bill for parties of 7 or more. This charge will be clearly indicated on your bill, and additional gratuities are at your discretion.

3. 100% transparency: Our establishment ensures that all tips, whether given by card or cash, are distributed fairly among staff members in accordance with Irish law.

4. Legal rights of employees: Under the Payment of Wages (Amendment) (Tips and Gratuities) Act 2022, all employees have the right to a fair distribution of tips and cannot have their wages replaced by gratuities.

5. No obligation tip: There is no legal requirement to tip in Ireland; it is entirely up to the customers discretion.

Thank you for your continuous support, and generosity. If you have any questions regarding our tipping policy, please feel free to ask a member of staff.
